At this time Jerry turned the meeting over to Perry, who discussed upcoming activities.

Picnic at Ron Zahn's- June 11th, Springfield, OR, at Ron Zahn's house. Picnic and tour of Ron's collection. Anyone interested in staying the night prior to the picnic in Springfield, contact Patricia Wojnowski for information. Please contact Perry Nordby if you plan to attend the picnic at Ron's. We will be meeting at the Rest Area on I-5 at Charbeneau just after exit 282A at 9:00am after you go under the Miley overpass, if you are going down with the group.
Perry can be reached at (503) 652-2180 home, or (503) 475-4518 cell.

Portland Art Museum- The museum will have an exhibit called The Allure of the Automobile from June 11 until September 11. "Investigating the stylistic development of automobiles, Allure of the Automobile will include 16 of the world's rarest and most brilliantly conceived cars from the 1930's to the early 1960's, including masterpieces by Bugatti, Ferrari, and Alfa Romeo." Jay Leno will be at the exhibit on Aug. 13 at 7:30 pm, for anyone interested in seeing him. Each weekend during the exhibit, there will be a free event called "Cars in the Park". This will be located on the grassy park area that runs parallel to the Art Museum. Each weekend there is a different theme. American Vintage will be on July 9th, and we will be going as a club. We will park our cars on the grass, and if we have 12 or more of us, we will be able to get a discount into the exhibit inside of the Museum. Everyone is welcome. If you plan to attend, please contact Perry soon, so that he can make arrangements for our group to attend the exhibit.

This is the 51st year they have done this. We had a wonderful time, and there is talk that we will do it again next year. It was very well done, and was very impressive.

I DIDN'T KNOW THAT !!! Fleetwood (RWD)/Deville (RWD)/Brougham (RWD)

From 1982 to 1985, all rear-wheel drive Cadillacs (except for the limousines) could be ordered with the 350 cu in (5.7 L) Oldsmobile LF9 Diesel V8. In fact, for most of its life, the 1980-1985 version of Cadillac's Seville came standard with Oldsmobile's V8 diesel, with the gas engine being a no-cost option.

From 1986 to 1990, the rear-wheel drive Cadillac Brougham used a 5 L (307 cu in) Oldsmobile carbureted V8 (replacing the Cadillac HT-4100).

In 1990 a 175 hp (130 kW), fuel-injected 5.7 L (350 cu in) Chevrolet small-block V8 (RPO LO5) became optional when the towing package is selected.

In 1991 the Oldsmobile 307 was replaced with a 5 L (305 cu in) throttle body fuel-injected Chevrolet V8 (RPO LO3 - same powerplant used in Chevrolet's Caprice and C/K light trucks). In 1993 the 180 hp (134 kW) 5.7 L (350 cu in) V8 became standard in the newly-renamed Cadillac Fleetwood.

In 1994 this was replaced with an iron headed Chevrolet LT1 V8 with 260 hp (194 kW), which the Fleetwood would use until it was discontinued at the end of the 1996 model year.

With the introduction of the Escalade to the Cadillac lineup, the L31 Vortec 5700 was used, as it was part of the Chevy truck line on which the Escalade was based. In 2001, the new redesigned Escalade picked up the performance version of the 6.0 L Generation III series engine (RPO code LQ9). Since 2007, all Cadillac Escalades have been equipped with Generation IV 6.2 L engines. This new engine option is shared with the GMC Denali.

CTS-V The 2004 to 2005 CTS-V's used the previous generation Corvette Z06's 400 hp (298 kW) 5.7 L LS6 V8.

The 2006 and 2007 Cadillac CTS-V uses the 400 hp (298 kW) 6.0 L LS2 V8, similar to that used in the standard Corvette C6.

The 2009 CTS-V carries a supercharged 6.2 L LSA variant, producing at least 550 hp (410 kW) (in preliminary ratings). This is similar to the LS9 used in the high-performance 2009 Corvette ZR1, but uses a different model of supercharger (the LS9 produces 638 hp (476 kW)).

Northstar Main article: Northstar engine series

Cadillac's most technologically advanced engine since the original arrived in 1992 is the DOHC Northstar unit. Although Oldsmobile, Pontiac, and Buick have borrowed the Northstar architecture for their V8 (and even V6) engines, it was not until the 2004 Pontiac Bonneville that a non-Cadillac used the Northstar name.

The Northstar is broken up into different versions depending on model usage and model year.

4.6 L The 270 hp (200 kW) version was available starting in 1993 on the Seville SLS and Eldorado ESC. The Allante, Seville STS and the Eldorado ETC had the 300 hp (224 kW) version of the Northstar. In 1994 the DeVille Concours received the 270 horsepower version of this engine. By 1996 the Northstar engine became standard equipment in the Front Wheel Drive Cadillac line. The 275 horsepower engine was in the Seville SLS 1993-2004, Eldorado ESC 1993-2002, Standard Deville 1996-2005, Devile d'elegance 1997-1999, and Deville DHS 2000-2005. The 300 Horsepower version was used in the Seville STS 1993-2004, Eldorado ETC 1996-2002, Deville Concours 1997-1999, and Deville DTS 2000-2005

4.4 L The 4.4 L versions were all supercharged, exclusive to Cadillac's V-series. The present STS-V engine, since 2006, produces 469 hp (350 kW) and 439 lb·ft (595 N·m) under the SAE certified rating system.

The 2006 - 2008 XLR-V uses the same supercharged Northstar V8 as the STS-V, though output is down somewhat due to design changes made to accommodate the model's more limited underhood space. For the XLR-V, the SAE certified output is 443 hp (330 kW) and 414 lb·ft (561 N·m). The supercharger and four intercoolers are built into the intake manifold.

The bores were reduced in size to increase block strength, increasing the safety margin under boost.

4.0 L This is the Oldsmobile Aurora variant, never installed in a Cadillac. The Aurora's cylinder heads had lower flow characteristics to match the engine's reduced size. The 4.0 L engine produces 250 horsepower (190 kW).
